DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election of species 4, claims 6 and 8, in the reply filed on 26 September 2006 is acknowledged. Because applicant did not distinctly and specifically point out the supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election has been treated as an election without traverse (MPEP § 818.03(a)).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claim 6 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Yamada et al (USPN 6,832,606). Yamada et al discloses a multi-wire saw 1 for cutting a workpiece W while supplying a slurry containing abrasive grains to a wire 15 traveling between a plurality of rollers 11, 12 comprising a slurry supply mechanism having an holding portion 10 for holding the slurry and a temperature control mechanism for keeping the temperature of the slurry constant and to supply the slurry to the wire 15 as the wire 15 passes through the holding portion 10, a surface 21 constituting the holding portion 10 provided with a passage hole 21' allowing the wire 15 to pass therethrough. Yamada et al does not disclose expressly the holding portion 10 is provided on an upstream side of a site where the workpiece W is cut (note Fig. 1-4, col. 3, line 8 to col. 6, line 2). At the time the invention was made, it would have been an obvious matter of design choice to a person of ordinary skill in the art to provide the holding portion on upstream side of the cutting site because Applicant has not disclose that providing the holding portion on an upstream side of cutting site provides an advantage, is used for a particular purpose, or solves a stated problem. One of ordinary skill in the art, furthermore, would have expected Applicant's invention to perform equally well with the holding portion is provided at the cutting site because the holding portion performs the same function of supply the slurry the wire. Therefore, it would have been an obvious matter of design choice to modify Yamada et al to obtain the invention as specified in claim 6.

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claim 8 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

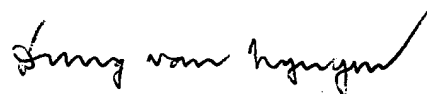

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Okumo et al, Hayashi et al and Huber et al are cited to show multi-wire saws.
